ARTHUR HARRINGTON CUP

Tomorrow evening Bridgewater Teachers College's basketball team will come to the Armory to try to retain the Arthur C. Harrington Cup against a Fitchburg team fresh from its victory over Assumption.

If Fitchburg can outscore Bridgewater by 23 points to make up for the 43-21 defeat of a few weeks ago, the cup will be awarded to Fitchburg for the year.

P. A. DISPLAY ROOMS PUT TO GOOD USE

Work of the Practical Arts Department is now being exhibited in the display rooms on the main corridor of the P. A. building.

At present the exhibits consist of Wood Working, Drawing and Metal Work. Mr. Landall has an exhibit on suggested projects for the eighth and ninth grades. Mr. MacLean has an exhibition of Sketching and Architectural Drawing. Mr. Purington exhibits, very attractively, the Art Metal work of the previous quarter.

The proposed plan is that at the end of each quarter there will be on exhibition in these display rooms the work of the previous quarter.

HOCKEY TEAM UPSETS NICHOLS J. C., 3-0

Coach McNeil's boys continued unbeaten, unscored, and untied, as they sunk the strong Nichols Junior College team, last Monday, to the tune of 3 to 0 at Coggshall Park. Play was fast and rugged despite the poor condition of the ice. In the first period, Fitchburg opened the scoring, Gearan carrying down the left side, passing to Chet Bercume who drove a hard shot at the Nichols goal who blocked spectacularly but English picked up the rebound and drove it into the upper corner of the net. Captain Godek then countered once in the second period. The time was 3 minutes, 40 seconds. He repeated 1 minute, 13 seconds later with the final score of the game. Both were the result of long solo dashes.

EDITORIAL

LINCOLN

His faith uncomparable, his passion for work irresistible, his belief in God abiding, his accomplishments not outdone in all history, Abraham Lincoln achieved far more than mankind can ever appreciate; for all that he has done for us, we are consciously grateful and humbly pay him homage.

His like will never be seen again.

New Campus Chatterer

In this issue THE STICK presents a new feature, Benny: a column embracing not only the materials covered by the term "campus gossip", but reviewing, in general fashion, the varied interests of the student body. Herbert Downs, who will edit the feature, appears to possess those virtues, common sense and good humor, which are imperative to a columnist's success. The editor and his staff extend to him a cordial and sincere welcome.

The Ash Tray

I have often been asked why some fair lass of the student body did not submit an ASH TRAY. In view of such questioning I do hereby challenge Barbara Whitmore to turn her very capable talents in the direction of what I'm sure would be a very fertile ASH TRAY.

AIMLESS THOUGHTS: Who likes tomato juice for breakfast?—A "nickel" at times becomes a most important coin—Fancy meeting you at Hiram's—I wonder if Sylvester appreciates his position—A fellow by the name of Jones has been haunting me of late—That guy Haire isn't the only one who finds new Cousins—Bet you can't guess who the little short fellow is who wrote the department entitled People Worth Meeting.

Have you heard of the freshman who was taking blackboard drawing? She was drawing circles in a cube. A wise-acre approached the particular individual and asked, "What are you doing, guy, laying eggs?"

"Don't be silly," was the reply. "Don't you know what an eclipse is?"

PEOPLE WORTH MEETING: The dorm-man who called a girl at 10:30 on the night of Feb. 8th to ask her to the Gav-Hawk dance—The big track man who allows little fellows to push him around—The fellow who soon should take out application papers for membership in "The Sucker's Club". (There will be a meeting soon).—The man who under precarious situations raves and writes fine pieces of poetry about the fair sex.

A maxim for success could be expressed in the two words, "SINCERE SIMPLICITY. Naturally the word Sincere needs no defining but as to the word Sim-

CCC CAMP APPRECIATES LECTURES BY FACULTY

As a result of the series of lectures that the faculty have been presenting to the members of the C. C. C. at their camp in Westminster, Dr. Herlihy has received a letter of commendation for the benefit they have been to the boys.

Mr. Francis Finn, educational director of the camp, has been very much pleased with the subjects so far presented. Among those presenting information on their hobbies and interests have been Henry P. Healy, Mrs. Simmons, Charles G. Hapgood, Florence D. Conlon, Willis B. Anthony, Lawrence E. Landall, and Edwin C. Clark.

The other subjects to be treated in the future are: "Metal Work as a Vocation"; "One Act Play"; "Bugs as a Hobby"; and "Printing as a Vocation". As a concluding feature on consecutive weeks, there will be two talks on general subjects. The first will be April 1, by Dr. Charles M. Herlihy on "The Melting Pot"; and the second, April 8, by C. Blair MacLean on the important subject "Choosing a Vocation".

These talks have had as a primary purpose the presenting of information to the boys in an interesting way so that they might be better able to find themselves when they do leave the ranks of the C. C. C.

plicity I intend that there should be an air of plainness inferred. Just out of curiosity and with this maxim as a basis try for your own satisfaction to estimate the degree of success you should expect upon graduating.

THE MIKADO TO BE PRESENTED MARCH 11

The climax of the musical season at the college is expected to be attained when the combined orchestra and Glee Clubs present the delightfully exciting and enjoyable Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado". The cast and chorus have been selected and rehearsals are already in full swing.

A publicity committee has been appointed and plans are being formulated to carry on an extensive advertising and ticket selling campaign.

The price of tickets and more details about the program will be announced in later editions of THE STICK.

P. T. A. SHOWN FILM

At the meeting of the Training School Parent-Teacher Association held in the Dillon School, Monday night, the film "Four Neighbors" was shown. This film emphasized developing the best in children; it was produced and sponsored by the Judge Baker Guidance Center of Boston.

the cup with them, and that they are not going to take it back," seemed to express the general feeling of optimism among the Fitchburg men.

Though no word to the effect has been received from Bridgewater, it is believed that they will bring a large gallery with them. Last year over a hundred girls followed the crimson boys to Fitchburg, and a still larger delegation can be expected as a reply to the four bus loads sent from here a month ago.

Manager Miner hopes that everyone who can possibly come will do so, for many voices will be needed to drown out the thunderous ringing of the "B—R—I" cheer.

FRESHMAN DANCE IS LIVELY OCCASION

Threats of abduction caused several tense moments at the Freshman Valentine Dance held in the college library last Friday night. A short skirmish proved to be the only result of the plan of upper classmen to take President Wes Akroyd for a "ride" after members of his class had stolen the Sophomore banner.

The dance, the first social event conducted by the class of 1940, was attended by a large crowd including several alumni. Features of the evening included the unveiling of the Freshman Class Song.

The class colors, blue and gold, were revealed in the banner.

RESULTS OF W. A. A. BOARD ELECTION

At the regular meeting of the Women's Athletic Association held on Monday, the following girls were elected to the W. A. A. Board:

Senior Representative	Cecelia Callanan
Junior Representative	Ailie Waris
Sophomore Representative	Anna Clifford
Freshmen Representative	Ruth Hughes
Head of Softball	Connie Day
Head of Volleyball	Mary Hanifan

BLACK WINS. 36-15

The Black team again came through to victory with a score of 36 to 15 when they played the Orange team on Thursday afternoon. Because of the excellent pass-work of the whole Black team and the accurate shooting of Ruth Copeland, their score was high. In the second half the Blacks were checked considerably when Gerry Lyons of the Orange was changed from forward to guard.

FITCHBURG TOPS ASSUMPTION 25-23

Fitchburg, with Dame Fortune smiling for a change, beat the highly touted Assumption team on the Greyhounds home floor. The game see-sawed back and forth with Assumption leading 10-9 at the half. With seconds left to play, Pellitier threw a long side shot to make the score 20-20 and send the game into an overtime period. Creamer scored from the floor and then followed with a free try. Aubuchon tied the score with another basket and a free try. Daniels scored the winning goal on a perfect pass from McDowell. The final score was; Fitchburg 25, Assumption 23.

CAMPUS CHATTER

BENNY HEARS

That the dorm men have voted Paul Frizzel the best sport in the dorm.

That the juniors sure hid the 16,000 books in the library very well for their successful prom.

That one student in an English class gave as his talk the subject, "I believe that the instructors should give out more homework." He was backed by one other student in the class.

That the freshman invitations were well appreciated. There were two members on the committee with several years' printing experience.

That the P. A. boys are hoping that Dean Anthony hasn't misplaced the fountain pen he told them contained "a few 'A's'".

That in a gathering recently the following remark was made: "I dare THE STICK to print that we think the freshman reporter is a lousy guy." (Because of the poor English, it will not be printed).

That there was a bit of commotion at the Freshman Dance. A fist, a face, a coat, a tug, a rip, a crowd, a smile, a forgotten incident.

That there was a party with ice cream and things right after the dance. I might add, plenty of ice cream.

That there was a scare (?) last week when the girls going through the tunnel heard someone hiding there. It is commonly said that girls chase after men, but it wasn't true in this instance.

Listen for This

Dad—"Well, son, how were your marks this semester?"

Son—"All under water like Louisville."

Dad—"What do you mean—'under water?'"

Son—"Under C level."

Dictionary Exercise

Flunk—Process of changing from a four to a five-year course.

Valedictorian—A wind instrument belonging to the graduating class.

Jealousy—The friendship one woman has for another.

Dear Donald McNeil:

Just dropping you a line to inform you of a very serious error you made while addressing the students of the college in Assembly. You said "Come and see the skaters' feet." According to the book of English construction, feet is a plural word and does not need an "s". —Benny

It was the first time in the history of the junior division of the grammar School league that there has ever been a shut out.
